Hi Charles-Eric and Radey,

Hope you're both doing well.

Following up on the thread below. Given the evolving situation in Ottawa, and growing concern from caucus, thought it would be good to have our three bosses do a quick caucus call.

Ministers Mendicino and Blair can provide an update on engagements with law enforcement and the city etc, and hoping the Whip can provide an update on MP Security etc.

From a scheduling perspective, was hoping to do this tomorrow evening, Monday February 7th, if possible. Our Minister would be available at 7PM.

Please let me know if that works on your end. If so, will add in the LRB to coordinate and send out a blast.

Feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Gowthaman

Hi Mark, Steve:

See below. Would you mind helping us get some time for a caucus call with Brenda? We will request as well, but it would be much appreciated if you could support on your end? Merci mes amis.

Just one more note. At the very least I would encourage you to do a briefing with caucus on this. I really think caucus is at a level of frustration that might not wait until Wednesday.

Subject: Protests

Dear Marco (copying my Minister and Bill), I am growing increasingly concerned about the danger these protests are bringing to Ottawa and the perception of lack of leadership on the federal level. I fully understand the constitutional responsibilities and the leadership of the Ottawa Police but this is not becoming one of those issues where people do not care what level of government is responsible they just want the matter fixed. I really think it is time we need the PM or you to ask Doug Ford (or your Ontario counterpart) and Mayor Watson to do a joint press conference spelling out exactly what will happen and how this is going to end. It cannot just be left to Peter Sloly who is clearly calling out for help. Can we please chat so I can understand the plans? [Personal Info.]

Thanks
Anthony
